A nurse, Betty Berger, met them and gave them assistance, and Dr. Berke, trailing behind unaware of transpiring events, arrived in time to see the babies about ready for their cribs.

Jack Dempsey Will Be Official at Round Lake Wrestling Friday Night

The ol' Manassa Mauler himself—Jack Dempsey—will officiate in the next thunderous wrestling card Friday night at Lake County stadium in Round Lake park. Dempsey recently toured the West to capacity houses, and finds that wrestling keeps him "spirited" and young. He's now 58, looking hale and hearty.

Many old friends of his are in this area, whom Dempsey will enjoy meeting again. He's also looking forward to the exciting show Promoter Fred Kohler has planned for Friday night. An Australian tag team match will serve as the headliner, with the Lords Blears and Layton, rough and tumble Englishmen, taking on Billy Darnell, archery and grid ace of Temple University, and Ronnie Etchison, one time Golden Gloves boxing champ of Missouri. The bout goes 60 minutes or the best of 3 falls.

In the semi-final, Gypsy Joe, light-heavyweight mat champ, locks grips with veteran Milt Olsen of Wisconsin, and as a curtain raiser, the cagey Billy Goetz and colorful long-haired Baron Arena swing into action. Goetz currently is the midwest's Jr. heavyweight king.

The fireworks will start at 8:30 p. m. A full house is anticipated.

Sports Car Racing Inaugurated Sunday At Wilmot Hills, Wis.

Thousands Will See Many Foreign Make Cars in Action

First of the sport car races will be run Sunday afternoon at the Wilmot Hills track and a big crowd is expected to be present in inaugurating this type of racing in this area.

Closing of the track at Elkhart Lake, Wis., where tremendous crowds were attracted, is expected to center the attention of the middle west on the Wilmot Hills track. There will be but two races there this year.

The track recently constructed on the grounds made famous by the ski hills one-half mile south of Wilmot on the Illinois-Wisconsin line, is a duplication of a public blacktop highway on private grounds. The state of Wisconsin now prohibits racing on public highways, thus the closing of the Elkhart track.

Cars can be parked on the top of the hills around the track and spectators can see 90 per cent of the race roadway at all times.

Cars of foreign as well as some sports cars of American make will take part. The racers will compete for trophies only as this is a purely sportsman's race.

Owner of the track is Wisconsin Sport Enterprises, and racers are members of the Sports Car Racers Association. The races are sanctioned by the Sports Car Club of America.

Tickets will go on sale at 10 a. m. and the races probably will start at 2 p. m. (DST).

Seated on her throne at the American Legion Carnival following the crowning is Joan Cervenka of Grass Lake, who has as her court (l to r.) Sylvia Beelow, Shirlee Ross, Mrs. George Cervenka (Joan's aunt and foster mother) Lorraine Steinel, and Arvis Ring.

Cabbage White

One of the most familiar of all Virginia butterflies is the European cabbage white, introduced from Europe after the middle of the last century, which has thoroughly taken over its new home. This is due partly to the fact that it is extremely prolific, producing as many as eight broods a year where cabbages are plentiful. It will eat almost anything, but on other plants than cabbage seldom produces more than four or five broods.

Baking Fish

When buying fresh fish for baking, allow one-half pound per serving if the fish is ready-dressed—meaning entrails and fins removed.

Storing Carrots

Carrots should be stored in a cool place, preferably the refrigerator, but the tops should be removed and the roots washed before storing in a refrigerator.

Target Practice

In Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Louise Bishop was fined $25 for tacking a picture of her husband to the wall, firing some 70 times at it with a .22 rifle.

Jack Dempsey Will Be Official at Round Lake Wrestling Friday Night

The ol' Manassa Mauler himself—Jack Dempsey—will officiate in the next thunderous wrestling card Friday night at Lake County stadium in Round Lake park. Dempsey recently toured the West to capacity houses, and finds that wrestling keeps him spirited and young. He's now 58, looking hale and hearty.

Many old friends of his are in this area, whom Dempsey will enjoy meeting again. He's also looking forward to the exciting show Promoter Fred Kohler has planned for Friday night. An Australian tag team match will serve as the headliner, with the Lords Blears and Layton, rough and tumble Englishmen, taking on Billy Darnell, archery and grid ace of Temple University, and Ronnie Etchison, one time Golden Gloves boxing champ of Missouri. The bout goes 60 minutes or the best of 3 falls.

In the semi-final, Gypsy Joe, light-heavyweight mat champ, locks grips with veteran Milt Olsen of Wisconsin, and as a curtain raiser, the cagey Billy Goetz and colorful long-haired Baron Arena swing into action. Goetz currently is the Midwest's Jr. heavyweight king.

The fireworks will start at 8:30 p. m. A full house is anticipated.

Sports Car Racing Inaugurated Sunday At Wilmot Hills, Wis.

Thousands Will See Many Foreign Make Cars in Action

First of the sport car races will be run Sunday afternoon at the Wilmot Hills track, and a big crowd is expected to be present in inaugurating this type of racing in this area.

Closing of the track at Elkhart Lake, Wis., where tremendous crowds were attracted, is expected to center the attention of the middle west on the Wilmot Hills track. There will be but two races there this year.

The track recently constructed on the grounds made famous by the ski hills one-half mile south of Wilmot on the Illinois-Wisconsin line, is a duplication of a public blacktop highway on private grounds. The state of Wisconsin now prohibits racing on public highways, thus the closing of the Elkhart track.

Cars can be parked on the top of the hills around the track and spectators can see 90 per cent of the race roadway at all times.

Cars of foreign as well as some sports cars of American make will take part. The racers will compete for trophies only as this is a purely sportsman's race.

Owner of the track is Wisconsin Sport Enterprises, and racers are members of the Sports Car Racers Association. The races are sanctioned by the Sports Car Club of America.

Tickets will go on sale at 10 a. m. and the races probably will start at 2 p. m. (DST).

For Lord's Sake Don't Call Me!

Newsweek recently printed a letter from one of its readers, John J. Wicker, Jr., which began: "Everybody is in favor of economy; everybody is in favor of reducing taxes—but—and this is always a big BUT—everybody wants the economy applied somewhere else."

Mr. Wicker then said this situation reminded him of an old British Army marching song which went about as follows:

"Call out the Army and the Navy
Call out the blooming rank and file
Call out the good old Territorials
They'll face the danger with a smile.
Call all the old battalions that made old England free—

Call out my father, my brother, or any other
But, for Lord's sake, don't call me!"

That attitude has been dominant for 20 years. We've finally reached the point where, if we are to have honest and economical government, which is as essential to our security and survival as military power itself, they're going to have to call you!

The Right Road

A rising tide of interest has been shown in recent successful experiments in the feeding of livestock to produce a commercially more valuable animal. The results were publicized by the American Meat Institute, and were based upon work conducted both by that organization and by universities.

The new method of feeding involves the addition of inexpensive animal fats to the protein element which is a normal part of the diet fed cattle and hogs. This would be of small value, of course, if it added weight to the animals only in the form of fat. But that has not been the case. As the Washington Times Herald puts it, "A rather unexpected result of the experiments was that feeding fats produced, not fatter animals, but animals with a higher proportion of lean meat, a quality that increases their market value. If practice in the feed lots of the nation confirms these findings, another of the livestock industry's present problems may be solved. Petroleum products are rapidly ousting tallow as a soap making material. Animal fats are consequently selling at such low prices that they could be added to supplement feeds without increasing the cost of the mixture."

The Times Herald went on to describe other recent achievements in the field of agricultural research affecting cotton and corn production. The point is scientific developments and experiments can transform the work of farming no less than the work of industry. This, rather than endless government subsidies and interference with the free market, points the way to a sounder and more stable farm economy.

Don't Stint the Feed!

"You don't make milk by stinting on the feed."

That was the theme of a recent address by Secretary of Commerce Weeks in which he dealt with the financial problems of regulated business. This top official said, "If the regulated industries are to render their full services to the nation, it is my judgment that the regulatory bodies must allow earnings adequate to attract and support the equity capital they can use effectively for economies, improvement and growth . . . the courage and inventiveness that risks great sums for improvements and economies in the future does not naturally emerge from men who have not the credit to raise the money nor the assurance that they would be allowed a return on it when their dreams come true."

The railroads are a perfect case in point. Over many years the return on their investment has averaged four per cent and in some years it has been much smaller. Thus, they have not found it possible to attract the capital they need for the improvement and expansion to better serve the shippers and travelers of this country.

The railroads have carried on a billion-a-year improvement program by drawing heavily on their reserves and by sharply increasing their obligations. But it is obvious that there is a limit to how far they can go in that direction.

The only solution, and it is a solution which is purely in the public interest, is to permit them earnings sufficient to attract the necessary capital—in other words, to stop "stinting on the feed."

Rubber Storage Hint

Don't fold rubber things such as baby sheets and bathing caps when you store them. They'll last much longer if you sprinkle them with talcum powder, roll them and put them away in a box.

Family guardian

Nobody is ever alone with a telephone in the house. So when you leave your child with a baby sitter, your telephone makes it possible for you to go out with even greater peace of mind. Of course, you have confidence in your sitter. But there's added comfort in knowing that the telephone is on hand, too. If an emergency should arise, a call can quickly put her in touch with you or the other guardians of family safety: your doctor, the police and fire departments.

We've prepared a handy card to help your baby sitter. It has places for all the vital information you'll want to leave with her. With this card, called the "Family Guardian"—the baby sitter's helper, she'll be prepared for anything that might come up. Would you like to have one?

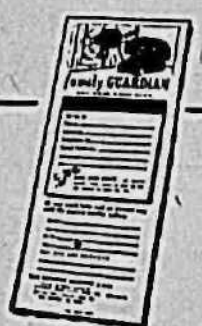

No price can measure its usefulness

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Baby Sitter's Helper

...yours for the asking!

This card, the "Family Guardian," has a place for you to list the telephone number where you can be reached. There's a whole pad of slips so you can use a new one each time.

And below the pad is a permanent space for the telephone numbers of your doctor, the police and fire departments and your neighbors.

Call or drop in at your local telephone Business Office for one. Or write the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, Department Y, Chicago 6, Illinois. We'll send you one right away.

SHORT STORY

The Horse Thief

By James D. Harsh

I NEVER should have trusted Clint Stone the day he rode into my ranch wanting a job as horse wrangler. Maybe it was the narrow eyes and the way he had of running his hands along his gun belt, made him look suspicious. After two months of working for the Lazy X ranch, he up and vanishes with two of my best studs.

3-Minute Fiction

Ben Elders, my foreman roared into the house the morning Clint left. He was a comical sight, Stetson and boots and pajamas in between, bending over me, shaking me until I plumb near rolled out of bed. "Clint stole your best studs, Boss!" Ben said, his eyes rolling with anger.

Somewhat I sorta expected something like that to happen, so I took it calmly. "When did he leave?"

"Near two hours ago. He told the cook he was going to take a ride to sorta think things over. When I went to feed the horses two of your top studs was missing."

The sun was warm as it came through the window. Ben called

"Just goes to show you, boss, a man should read everything before he signs. You can't trust nobody these days."

some of the boys together. I told them what had happened. It was only a matter of minutes until we were all saddled and heading out across a wide expanse of ground, following what looked like two horse tracks. It was kind of a hunch I had about the slicker taking his loot into Pinto Plains where he could get a good price for the horses. Jedd Masters was a dealer in the town who bought at a good price and didn't much care whose brand rode on the horse's flank.

Jedd was the slickest hombre I'd ever heard of. No one could put a finger on him because the law hadn't caught him in the act.

It was late afternoon when we neared Jedd's place laying calm and peaceful on the outskirts of Pinto Plains. Ben was the first to spot the Lazy X studs tied outside Jedd's cabin. I halted the men some distance from the place, and got down and went to the front door on foot. I knocked and a small man with a dried face opened the door.

"I'm Mark Forsythe of the Lazy X." I said calmly forcing my way inside, over my shoulder I could see Ben coming toward the cabin, his lean hand resting on his .45.

"So?" Jedd looked troubled. "What did the gent take for the critters outside?" I nodded to where Jube and Skipper were tied.

"That's my business," he spat. I drew fast and leveled my Colt into his sagging belly. He squirmed, fear showing on his face.

"Half a grand. But . . . he told me they were his . . . no law saying a man can't buy a couple horses. I paid him off and he beat it." His thin lips were trembling.

"Well, I'm buying 'em back from you." I threw five hundred dollars at his feet and backed out the door. He stared at the green backs, then stepped and picked them up. "I can't prove you didn't know they were stolen; but if I ever catch your kind around my place I'll blow you to kingdom come."

When I got outside I saw something that made me stop dead still. The sheriff and Clint Stone were riding hard in our direction. Clint stayed on his horse when the sheriff pushed into the cabin. Then Jedd came out, his hands raised skyward.

"Thanks to your hand here, we finally got the goods on Jedd Masters. Pretty smart idea you had, sending Clint here to Jedd like he was unloading a pair of stolen studs. There's no law in these parts again horse dealing, but when a man signs a receipt saying he's paying for stolen property then I figure he ain't playing fair and square."

What ever reason Clint had for laying for Jedd I'll never know, cause a cowboy's business is his own as long as he can cut the mustard. Clint handed me a wad of bills which totaled five hundred and we started back to the ranch.

"Just goes to show you, boss, a man should read everything before he signs. You can't trust nobody these days." Clint had sort of self satisfied grin on his sun tanned face.

Hot Weather Salad
Old-fashioned cabbage salad is excellent for hot weather appetites. Season with onion and parsley, then toss with sugar dissolved in vinegar and a bit of oil to make the cabbage shreds glisten.

The dirt will melt off your bathroom walls if you fill the room with steam by running hot water into the tub and basin. Steam loosens the dirt and only a slight wipe with a cloth is necessary.

You're always sure of enough, even for the extra demands of today's automatic washing machines and dishwashers. That's because new Gas Water Heaters are faster—their "quick recovery" gets you more hot water in a hurry to replace what you've drawn off. There's no need to have a bulky, space-taking tank, either... not when Gas gives you more efficiency with a practical size unit.

You'll also like Gas economy... just a few pennies a day brings you abundant hot water. Low installation cost saves you money, too.

Start now to enjoy unlimited, low-cost hot water... get a new Automatic Gas Water Heater.

Today's AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATERS are built to save fuel and give lasting service. They're solidly constructed and protected against corrosion... a heavy jacket of insulation all around keeps heat IN, cold OUT. Thermostat automatically keeps water at the temperature you set. Six-Year-Old Drowns At Channel Lake While Family Was on Visit From Chicago

The drowning of Sandra Lee Ostepchik, 6, near Oakland resort, Channel Lake, Sunday evening, became Lake county's fourteenth fatality of that nature this year.

The child, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ostepchik of 2315 W. 21st st., Chicago, came with her parents and a sister, Barbara, 11, to the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. George School for an evening's visit.

The two little girls went wading and Barbara said she happened to turn her back to her sister while the latter was wading in water up to her chin and when she turned around her sister was out of sight. She called her parents.

The Antioch Rescue Squad was called and was unable to find the body. Next morning Robert Scholl found the girl about 30 feet from shore in comparatively shallow water. She was drawn up as if she had suffered a cramp.

The body was taken to the Strang Funeral home and later removed to a funeral home at 2411 W. Chicago Ave., Chicago where funeral services were held with burial in Elmwood cemetery, River Grove.

Besides the parents and the sister, a brother John J. survives. The boy was at a camp near Salem Wis., at the time of the accident.

Earlier Sunday, another Chicago child, Robert J. Blessing slipped from a rubber tubing and drowned at Island Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tiffany and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burke and children of Waukegan were guests at the Deedle Tiffany home Sunday.

Antioch Moose lodge is planning a bus trip to Milwaukee to attend a baseball game within the next two weeks. The membership drive is progressing fine.
